

Science in progress

Our building has been chosen by CSIRO for a nationwide study on how apartment residents use energy. Be part of this important research shaping the future of sustainable living: Sign up now!

Households will receive free energy monitoring devices, and our building may qualify for a free energy assessment valued at $2000

For more information or to register your interest, scan the QR code or visit ahd.csiro.au/aeps

Australian Government
Department of Climate Change, Energy,
the Environment and Water

